SCHOOL BOARD ASKED TO BUILD SCHOOL HOUSE ON BARNEY TRACT

The owners of the Barney tract and North Fair Oaks have petitioned the Redwood City grammar school trustees for the establishment of a school near the center of population in those tracts.

There are over 26 children in the district, and it is likely the trustees will acquiesce and grant the petition. This is a rapidly growing territory adjacent to Redwood City with its pretty homes and nice gardens. When the Platt-Lowe cannery will be established in that vicinity the workmen will establish homes in the locality which will make the school an absolute necessity. It is a growing district with a brilliant future. It is destined to be the home of the workmen at the factory sites at the water front, the Platt-Lowe company and the Dyeing Works close by. No district has a brighter future.

The owners of the tract will give the site for the building. They have decided on a parcel of land on the corner of the Barney tract just at the turn of the Middlefield road at the Old Hayes place.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND BUSINESS MEN BANQUET TUESDAY

The banquet given by the members of the Chamber of Commerce and Business Men in Hotel Sequoia last Tuesday evening was a splendid success from every point of view. Some excellent ideas were brought out by the speakers.

As the first step to secure the dirigible depot, announcement was made that an appearance site, has been found and an option on it will be offered shortly to the War Department.

Gordon A. Ferrie, president of the Redwood Aviation school, said this site, part of the aviation school's property, fills every government requirement, adding:

"We are prepared to submit statistics and figures to Colonel C. de F. Chandler, who has been detailed to recommend a site, that will convince him we have the ideal location. Recently compiled statistics by the weather bureau, War Department and Smithsonian institution show that this city enjoys the most even temperature in the world, with but two exceptions, Cairo, Egypt, and the Canary Islands. The average afternoon wind velocity for the last ten years here has been only ten miles an hour."

George C. Broadman, vice-president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly pledging San Francisco's co-operation with the peninsula cities in anything they undertook. He said:

"We in San Francisco recognize that anything making for the prosperity of the peninsula makes for our prosperity also, and vice versa. That's why we should keep up the spirit of co-operation and good fellowship that has always existed."

He outlined the structure of organization of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and recommended that it be followed in Redwood City. Others who spoke briefly were M. J. Knox, president of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, who presided; Mayor Carl K. Mabie; L. P. Behrens, cashier of the First National Bank; Frank K. Towne, city treasurer; M. E. Ryan, city trustee; B. F. Meyers of the Sequoia Union High School and secretary of the Redwood Community Council; F. H. Drake, representing San Carlos, and John MacBain, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

KENNETH M. GREEN ASSOCIATES WITH LAW FIRM IN THE CITY

Kenneth M. Green, the well-known young San Mateo attorney, has established offices in the Humboldt Bank Building, San Francisco, where he is associated with Thomas O'Connor, the noted criminal lawyer of the city and W. A. Kelly, the foremost opponent of Charles M. Fickert for the district attorneyship of San Francisco. Mr. Green is a talented lawyer, a worker, possessing a keen conception of the law and will surely meet with success in the metropolis, surrounded as he is with such brilliant associates.

LOUIS R. EATON SUES WIFE FOR DIVORCE

Louis R. Eaton has brought an action in the superior court against his wife, Ella Marie Eaton on the ground of extreme cruelty. The Eatons were married at Menlo Park on November 30, 1913 and separated on August 5, 1919. They have one child Louis S. Eaton ,aged four and a half years.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE BY YOUNG AMERICANS

There is a rapidly growing tendency on the part of Young America to have their bicycles propelled by attaching themselves to the rear of automobiles and auto trucks. To them this is great sport. It is also very dangerous for numerous accidents have occurred lately by the boys losing their hold on the machines and being thrown underneath the motor vehicle. Parents are warned to chastise their sons, by so doing they may avoid serious trouble both for themselves and their offspring.

RECEPTION AND OPENING AT LA HONDA TONIGHT

"Uncle Ben's" grand opening and ball at Woodruff Inn, La Honda, takes place this evening. The grand march begins promptly at 9:30 led by "Uncle Sam" and Miss "La Belle France" in character costume. A midnight supper will be a big feature of the event, and this should not be missed for Uncle Ben is a natural-born caterer who knows how to provide for the inner man. This will be one of La Honda's big events so don't miss it for the world.

For many years he has been in the draying business in San Francisco where he has resided since his young manhood. Mrs. McEvoy is survived by three sons and a daughter, all of whom have reached the age of majority. The youngest son, Paul, saw service overseas and only recently returned from the front in France. Mrs. McEvoy worried a great deal about her son and it is believed that this constant worry was one of the causes that led to her illness. Mrs. McEvoy was a San Franciscan and was well-known in Redwood City twenty years ago.

FORGERY CLAIMED IN COBURN WILL

Writing experts have declared the last will and testament of the late Sarah Satira Coburn to be a forgery.

This will bring the matter into court and an effort will be made by the heirs of the late Loren Coburn and the blood relatives of Mrs. Coburn to brake the will. Ross & Ross of this city represents teh Loren Coburn heirs, while William Humphrey of San Francisco will appear for the relatives of Mrs. Coburn. The latter departed on Wednesday for the east to consult his clients.

The latest move in the Coburn estate may lead to the arrest of the party who murdered the aged woman.

HAROLD BELL WRIGHT'S "SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS" PICTURED TRUE TO LIFE

Beginning Monday, matinee August 18, a masterful picturization of Harold Bell Wright's famous story, "The Shepherd of the Hills" will be shown on the screen of the Sequoia theatre. The film will be exhibited for a period of two nights and one matinee.

To the thousands of local readers of the book, the picture will particularly appeal, for the story has been transplanted to the screen exactly as it was written. From "Sammy Lane" down to "Little Pete," all of the characters have been brought to life with absolute realism.

The author personally supervised the production to make sure that no event that was told in the story was omitted in the cinema version.

The film has been exhibited in the middle west, and has just completed a successful run at one of the larger theatres in San Francisco, where it shattered all records for attendance.

Among the characters who are brought to life by players of unusual historic ability are "Little Pete," "Sammy Lane," "The Shepherd," "Young Matt," "Ollie Stewart," "Wash Gibbs," "Old Matt," "Howard, the Artist" and others, and the incidents of the story are told on the screen in the same succession that they were related in the book.

TIME FOR OLD-TIMERS TO TAKE NOTICE

With one-third of the open season for deer shooting already but a memory, it might be well for the old-time hunters of the antlered game to cease talking about the four-pointer that got away, examine closely their buck born and peep sights and get busy making good, or the laurels of the chase will descend upon the shoulders of the younger generation before the present season is closed. Last Sunday the largest deer thus far brought into town this year was killed in the Alpine district and was placed on exhibition in one of the showy display windows at the Portola Market of Hallett & Danz on Broadway. The buck weighed 148 pounds dressed and was brought down by Ralph Hallett, son of Harry Hallett of this city. It was the first deer young Mr. Hallett had ever shot and when one considers that the animal was running down hill and at a distance of 250 yards was bolled over with a single shot, it is safe to assume that if the head of the Hun ever swells again and the honor of Uncle Sam has to be vindicated, Ralph Hallett will be assigned as a sharp-shooter and no one will ever dougt but what he will make good.

UNITED RAILROAD TO BUILD FROM SAN MATEO SOUTH TO PALO ALTO

It was learned yesterday from a reliable source that the United Railroads will shortly begin the extension of its tracks from San Mateo down the peninsula to Palo Alto to connect with the Peninsula Railroad at the College City. It is believed the Southern Pacific company is behind the movement and that the United Railroads may use the former's franchise. The proposed track is to parallel the Coast Division line. From the numerous purchases of land adjacent to its tracks down the peninsula recently by the railroad company it would seem that such a project is contemplated. It is known that the passenger traffic along the peninsula has fallen off greatly and that the business is being absorbed by the Rapid Transit company and other motor vehicle conveyances and in order to hold this traffic it becomes necessary for the big concern to build an electric road down the peninsula to Palo Alto. It is understood the curves or turns at San Mateo are to be removed so that the road may parallel the Southern Pacific's tracks at that place.

During the week the superintendent of construction of the United Railroads was notified that when the work of improving the road bed on the Mission road was completed he was to start building the proposed new road.

It is needed very badly and when in operation this part of the peninsula is certain to boom. It is hoped that the dream of the people of this section who have looked forward to this road for years is soon to be realized.

LLOYD-MAAR NUPTIALS

Miss Elsa Maar, daughter of Mrs. May Maar and the late Rev. F. H. Maar, was united in marriage to Franklin R. Lloyd at Northfork, California, on August 9, 1919. Miss Maar spent her girlhood here while her father was the pastor of the Congregational church. She is a charming young lady, well educated and refined. Mrs. Lloyd often visited friends in Redwood City.

A DEBT OF GRATITUDE TO LATE ANDREW CARNEGIE

Redwood City, being one of the 2000 communities sharing in the benefactions of the late Andrew Carnegie through his library endowments owes its tribute of respect to the millionaire philanthropist whose passing marks the end of a career amazing for tremendous accomplishments and tremendous influence. Unlike the life work of most men whose names become famous, the influence of Andrew Carnegie was not radiated by zealous personal work in any cause or by contact with his personality, but must be credited to the distribution of his dollars. Because his philanthropy was executed on a tremendous scale and was distributed over a varied and far reaching number of institutions, his influence is none the less real nor none the less creditable because it has been spread by this means.

For the benefit of the people of Redwood City, who may not realize the facts, the Times-Gazette reminds its readers that the public library building here was made possible by the gift of $10,000 from Andrew Carnegie, which was secured in 1903. After the earthquake in 1906 another gift of $6000 was made by the Laird of Skibo to rebuild the institution. The gift was made on the same terms as all the Carnegie Library endowments, namely, that the community in which the Carnegie library is erected must provide the site for the build ing and guarantee an annual apropriation for maintenance of the institution equaling ten per cent of the amount donated.

SAN CARLOS NOTES

Mrs. Annie Yates returned to her home in the Marin Hills after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Mahany.

Jax Marvchant and family moved into their new bungalow on Walnut street, between Cypres and Cherry, last Wednesday immediately after its completion.

Young Miss Miriam Pimentel who has been the guest of her chum, Miss Claire Jones has returned to her home in San Francisco.

Mr. F. A. Fourcher, the trick bicycle rider, high jumper and all-around theatrical man left last Thurs day for Portland, Oregon, where he will complete a six weeks engagement at one of the popular show houses in the northern metropolis. From Portland Mr. Fourcher will proceed to New York where he expects to establish himself permanently, playing all the show houses in and adjacent to the big city. Mrs. Fourcher and the three children will remain in their apartments at the Hurlbuts until Mr. Fourcher has arranged for their home in the east. Mr. Fourcher has been in the west for the past five years playing to the show-going people in the various cities, making his residence in Los Angeles where his children would have advantage of the best schools. The Fourchers are an unusually delightful family of the old southern type, when children were taught to respect and venerate their parents, and are truly delightful people to know and cultivate. After knowing them we shall regret to lose them from our little community.

Miss Mabel Gasper of Yreka is a guest at the home of her brother, H. A. Gasper at the Hurlbut apartments.

The Ohio building is becoming one of the noted and popular resorts down the peninsula. The following were among last Sunday's visitors: G. W. Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kneas, San Mateo: Stanley Hencher, Sacramento; H. A. Gasper, Louis Gasper, Geo. Von Glohn, Jas. G. Burke, Bert O'Brien, Milo L. Mortenson, the Misses Florence Gill, and Ruth Allen, Frank Bedford, Lieut. J. W. Grigler, Arthur L. Gorla, A. Lambertson and Mr. and Mrs. Stevens of San Francisco.

Mrs. J. M. Powers who left last Wednesday night on the Shasta Limited for Portland, Oregon, with the expectation of returning by auto with Mrs. Claud L. Zeigler, surprised her friends by returning home the following Sunday morning by train. From the appearance of the traffic on the road as she went north Mrs. Powers concluded the trip by auto would not be so fascinating as she had anticipated, and hence soon after her arrival in Portland last Friday morning she made her Pullman reservations to start for San Carlos the same evening. Mrs. Powers was on the road to and from Portland four nights.

Mrs. Jas. McKinnon of San Francisco was a guest of Mrs. Chas. B. Marvin a part of last week.

The announcement of the engegement of Miss Elena Eyre, the pretty winsome and accomplished young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Eyre of Atherton to Marshall Madison, was made this week. Mr. Madison, until recently was a captain in the Marine Corps. He served in France for fifteen months and was in the Argonne engagement. Mr.Madison, whose studies at the law college of the University of California were interrupted and delayed for two years on account of the war, is now completing his course and will graduate in less than a year. The wedding will take place early next summer, following his degree from the law school. Miss Eyre is an unusually beautiful girl possessing an attractive manner, thoroughly democratic and enjoying a large circle of friends on the peninsula. During the war Miss Eyre was one of the most zealous of the younger girls in assisting with the community's work in all manner of ways. She worked in the canteens as a waitress and was also a Red Cross assistant. Her popularity has made her the choice of many of her friends as a bridal attendant, and since her debut a couple of seasons ago she has been the life of many a gala party in her honor.

The ninety acre tract belonging to Sullivan Brothers and formerly the holding of B. Barney of Atherton avenue and extending to Camino Al Lago is being subdivided into five and ten acre tracts. The owners have planned to build and rock all the roads and streets. When these improvements are completed this property will be the choicest tract in the county for home sites. The tract is to be placed on the market at once. Already there are many inquiries for the choicest building sites.

On the Selby tract may be seen the most prolific crop of tomatoes ever grown in the state. It can not be equaled anywhere. The owners of the crop have a big supply of water secured from a deep well bored last spring, the supply and the richness of the soil account for the large production of the choicest vegetable. Big returns are assured the owners. Tomato crops in other near-by counties are affected with the blight and will be failures. This condition does not exist in either Santa Clara or San Mateo counties. This state of affairs is a big boost for this locality where the tomato grows to perfection and brings the growers rich returns.

McNally Brothers, who have had charge of the Menlo Pharmacy for nearly a year, have retired and their place has been taken by W. B. Latimer, who formerly was employed by the late Mrs. Selzer. Mr. Latimer will conduct the business for Selzer Brothers and may buy the drug store later on. He likes the loaclity and may decide to locate here permanently.

Arthur Gale, an oil magnate, motored up from Los Angeles this week to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gale of this place.

A deal is pending and will shortly be consummated whereby the firm of D. N. and E. Walter will take over the Fremont theatre building for a furniture warehouse. Mr. Charles Merril is now considering the proposition. The firm recently retired from the retail business and is engaged only in wholesaling furniture. Samples of furniture are to be kept in the San Francisco office and this place is to be a distributing point for all sales. The concern has other warehouses in the city. All peninsula orders will be distributed from the local warehouse.

Miss Helen Gertrude Higgins, pretty young daughter of Bernard Higgins, deputy sheriff of Santa Clara county, and formerly a resident of Menlo Park, was married to Timothy J. Sullivan, manager of the Louis Oneal Cattle Ranch in the Santa Cruz mountains on Tuesday last. The young couple will make their home at Campbell.

The remains of Rev. Lucien Meihl, the beloved priest of St. Patrick's Seminary, were laid to rest in the seminary burial grounds last Monday morning. Before they were committed to their last resting place a requiem high mass was celebrated in the chapel by Father Ayrinhac, president of the institution. The seminary choir of over fifty voices rendered special music. Father McElroy, one of the first graduates of the institution and a friend of the dead priest, delivered a splendid eulogy over the remains of the departed clergyman. He touched upon the beautiful life of the deceased, telling of his devotion to his sacred calling his tenderness and love of God. Father Meil was born in France 49 years ago and for 18 years was a teacher at St. Patrick's Seminary. He died at O'Connor's Sanitarium last Friday. Father Meil was professor of Latin, Greek, French and Gregorian Chant at the seminary. He was known for his great ability, and zeal in religious work. He was one of the first priests to arrive at the seminary after its opening in 1900.

William Feeley returned home from overseas on Wednesday evening aften spending nearly two years in France and Germany. He was engaged in five battles of the great war, the Marne, Argonne, Vesle,, Chateau Thierry and St. Mihiel. He returned with a portion of the Fourth division which was in the thickest of the fray. During his stay in Germany Young Feeley acted as secret service agent under General Hunter Liggitt. The young soldier is glad to get back to his home and friends.

"Why I chose the Bank of Italy"

By a woman depositor

A Southern California woman recently made the following statement to one of the members of our advertising department:

"I chose this bank because it is one of the largest and strongest financial institutions in the United States. Practically everywhere I go in California I am able to obtain the advantages of the Bank of Italy's splendid facilities. My bank literally travels with me. Futhermore, I can secure a broader service and greater accommodation from an institution that maintains branches throughout the state than is possible from a local bank.

"There is also considerable satisfaction in knowing that one is dealing with a hundred million dollar institution."
